

Did you ever wonder what your work life would be like without NTEU?

It would be a very different world. There would be no civil service protections, no locality pay, no alternative work schedules, telework or flexible spending accounts and few political rights.

For 75 years, NTEU has worked to bring you a different world. In celebration of our anniversary, NTEU is launching a website that traces our path to the present. Experience NTEU's rich history at NTEU75.org:

- Browse an extensive virtual exhibit of photos, charters, letters, articles and memorabilia.
- Learn about the major federal employee issues that have driven NTEU through the years.
- Watch videos featuring NTEU members sharing their personal memories of NTEU battles and accomplishments.
- Read notes of congratulations to NTEU members from elected leaders and other dignitaries and submit your own messages.
- A colorful slideshow of NTEU members celebrating the union's 75th anniversary throughout the country.

As the celebration continues, the website will be updated with new features.

Over the course of 75 years, NTEU has grown from a handful of tax collectors who wanted civil service status to represent 150,000 federal employees in 31 federal agencies and departments. Now that's reason to celebrate.
